Hope & Care Center + New Life Shelter Home

18 Marla facility • UBL Society (near LUMS), Lahore

Founded in 2000, Hope Uplift Foundation is a not-for-profit organization committed to the welfare and uplift of marginalized, financially challenged, and underprivileged communities. Since its establishment, the Foundation has worked diligently to serve vulnerable segments of society through locally supported philanthropic efforts and community-driven initiatives.

Hope Uplift Foundation is duly registered with the Registrar Joint Stock Companies under the Societies Registration Act, 1860, and is also registered with the Federal Board of Revenue (FBR) and the Punjab Charity Commission. The organization is further certified by the Pakistan Centre for Philanthropy (PCP), holds tax-exempt status, and possesses the relevant Economic Affairs Division certification.

The Foundation operates independently and does not receive any government grants. Its activities are sustained entirely through locally raised donations, generously contributed by families, friends of the directors, philanthropists, corporate entities, volunteers, and other socially conscious individuals. To ensure transparency, accountability, and sound financial governance, the accounts of Hope Uplift Foundation are audited annually by Grant Thornton, a renowned international audit firm.

MEET ALI AZMAT

Ali Azmat is a bright 6-year-old studying in Grade K-G at the Hope Uplift Foundation School. He lost his father and now lives with his younger brother at the HUF New Life Home. His mother, with immense courage, works tirelessly in people's homes just to make ends meet. Ali's smile hides a world of hardship, but at HUF, he's found safety, care, and a chance at a better future.
